Dear Anthum,

After careful review, I am pleased to announce that your company has been designated as a Well Workplace at the Small Business Level. By successfully meeting this set of health promotion standards, you have demonstrated your willingness to promote and improve the health and well-being of your most valuable asset—your employees. Moreover, by achieving this designation, your organization will be recognized by the Wellness Councils of America as one of America's Healthiest Small Companies.

Because this award recognizes the fact that you have made an organizational commitment to health promotion, I trust that you will continue to invest in this important initiative and that you will continue to maintain this designation in the future.

Please accept our warmest congratulations on achieving this award. We proudly welcome you to the elite group of America's Healthiest Small Companies.

Sincerely,

The Well Workplace Award Application

About The Well Workplace Awards Small Business Initiative

To advance an aggressive national worksite wellness agenda, WELCOA has developed the Well Workplace Awards Small Business initiative. Developed as an important addition to the already existing Well Workplace Awards process, the Small Business initiative provides employers in organizations with 50 or fewer employees an opportunity to compete for national recognition. To be considered for a Small Business Well Workplace Award, an organization must complete the information contained in this application. In so doing, small business employers will be taking significant steps toward creating a healthier workplace for all employees and their families.

About The Wellness Councils of America

The Wellness Councils of America is one of North America's most trusted voices on the topic of worksite wellness. With nearly two decades of experience, WELCOA is widely recognized and highly regarded for its innovative approach to worksite wellness. Indeed, through their internationally recognized Well Workplace awards initiative, WELCOA has helped hundreds of companies transform their corporate cultures and improve the health and well-being of their most valuable asset—their employees.
